GOSSIP FROM THE CAPITAL New Carpets in the White House-Prepar

WASHINGTON, Dec. St.-The White House will be more attractive on New Year's Day for the little changes made recently. The new carpet in the East Boom is above the criticism always provoked by the very neutral shades of the former carpet put down by Tiffany. The Tif-fany carpet gratified a few mesthefic minds, but the general verdict said it was "Inded," and therefore the costly Axminster was never a tral ground relieved by deci led shades that are that ground releved by decision and the new carpet and blue plush furniture and window curtains. The former blue was also "too curtains. taded" for general approval. The plush is perhaps, the robin egg blue, or as near it as can be. One is inclined to wish that the original intention of Tiffany, to give to the Blue Boom wholly blue and silver effects, had been carried out. The intention got no further than the walls. They are blue and silver, and are beautiful. But the chandeliers and furniture are yellow gilt, and there is at once the made by this silver and gold mixture. The question invariably comes up. Why was it not one thing or the other?

The Green Boom has not been made in the least "smart" by anything new. The colors are too delicate to give service, and they show wear and tear very perceptibly.

The Red Room holds its own in its warm.

The Red Room holds its own in its warm, rich coloring and firm textures. The Red Room has been used by most Presidents' families, more as a family parlor than the other rooms, for the atmosphere is more home like. There will be no pains to render the New Year reception at the White House especially brilliant. But the shadow of Mr. Manning's death is too marked, and Mrs. Manning's death is too marked, and hone who saw her last New Year's Day as one of the President's assistants, the fascination of her smiling face, and honest, cheery welcome to visitors. At the White House, or in her own home here, Mrs. Manning was never or a moment a half-hearted hostess. In homely phrase, one knew just where to find her, just what to expect. Her ready tact, kindly nature, and grace of manner made her a popular woman in the best sense of the word. She was mindful of the small things, and never above or forgetful of the small things, and never above or forgetful of the small things, and never above or forgetful of the just contrastes at all times and under all circumstances. Mrs. Manning could not help being liked, and she was sincerely liked for herself. Her position as the wife of a Cabnet of the holes gave more to the position, and male the public her friend. None but a true woman exald accomplish as much.

It is announced that the President and his wife are to be assisted on New Year's Day and Wrs. White, white a president wife, the customary breaking her by the customary breaking her will not receptions at their happens that Mrs. Lamar is absent, and Mrs. Endicott and Mrs. Boordary and Mrs. Pairchild, Secretary and Mrs. Scordary and with his daughters, and the President's wife to the Children's Christmas Club rich coloring and firm textures. of the season.

"FERDINAND CORTEZ"

A Grand Spectacular Production at the

"Ferdinand Cortez" at the Metropolitan Opera House are fast nearing completion: they are, in fact, so advanced that the announcement has gone forth that Spontini's opers will be in readiness for production Friday evening of this week. mises to be doubly interesting through the absolute novelty of the music, and the extraor-dinary splendor of the scenic attire provided for its revelation to an American audience. The opportunities afforded the scenic artist and ostumer by the librettist's story are unusually great, and advantage has been taken of all. The scenery will be notably elaborate and showy. The picture to be shown in Act L has been gotten up in exact accordance with the acting copy of the opera. The vast stage of the Metropolitan is to be enclosed by a semicircular panorama, offering a bird's-eye view of the city of Mexico, as glowingly described by Cortez. Within the enclosure is the vestibule of the great temple. Towering high stands the Talepulca, the god of evil, a hideous monster, whose form is wrought of human skulls and bones, enakes, and hideous objects generally. Upward of 200 persons will occupy the stage when the curtain risse upon this scene. Is Act II, the spectator will behold a panoramic view of Vera Cruz. In Act III, he will first look upon a moonlit lake, with the city of Mexico in the distance, this picture changing to a temple, with the entrances to the tombs of the kings. The walls of the temple are completely covered with rich carvings, and the god Talepulca is once more prominent in the foreground. When the final prisode of this act is reached, the outer walls of the temple are blown up, and a view of the burning city of Mexico meets the eye. In the second act a grand ballet will be danced, and it is hinted that the attire of the ballerine will be as diaphanous as Mr. Comstock's judgment on the subject will permit. Without anticipating upon the impression of the first night of "ferdinand Cortes," it is clear that nothing will be left undone by Mr. Stanton to make the production of Spontini's opera memorable from a spectacular as well as a lyric standpoint. erdance with the acting copy of topers. A Senly, Stehing, Skin Disease with Endique Suffering Cured by Cutleura Remedies,

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twentyeight years ago it would have saved me 1000 (two hundred dollars) and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (Portasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It apread rapidly all ever my body and got under my sails. The scales would drop oft of me all the time, and my suffering was endies, and without reliaf. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leproxy, some ringworm, poortasis, &c. I took . . .
and . . . Sarsaparilias over one year and a half, but no cure. I went to two or three doctors, and no cure. I cannot graise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much.
They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was three boxes of CUTICURA and two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP. If you shad been here and said you would have cured me for $200 VENT, and two cakes of CUTICURA SOAP. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200 yeu would have had the money. I looked like the picture in your book of Prorisais (picture number two, "How to Cure Skin Diseases"), but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I submy hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a flowership in the Anything. more that you want to know write ma, or any one who reads this may write to me and I will answer it.

Catarrhal Dangers. To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter deflies the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste, and bearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veius and arteries snok up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE masts avery phone of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economloai and never-failing.
